Liturgy was a vehicle of theology. 2.4 When Christianity transformed institutions, the old forms remained recognisable; that was part of the attraction. 3.1a The development of fixed norms isn't a power-play or a theological regression. It's necessary for the formation of new institutions. 3.1b Normative lists of a NT canon weren't only used in ecclesial institutions but also in the free-wheeling schools.

Christianity addresses the historical figure of Jesus Christ against the background of, and while seeking to remain faithful to, the experience of one God. It has consistently rejected polytheism and atheism. A second element of the faith tradition of Christianity, with rare exceptions, is a plan of salvation or redemption. That is to say, the believers in the church picture themselves as in a plight from which they need rescue.
