Joe Flynn began writing poetry in his teens during the late 1960's. Early on his teachers saw talent in his writings. It was after high school that Joe became even more prolific in his writing.Joe's poetry is an expression of the times, his observations and struggles, loves found and lost, all that he experienced during this creative time of his life.

The Collected Poems of Langston Hughes is a print source I obtained from my school library media center.The text is 717 pages of works by Langston Hughes. There is an Introduction and a timeline of Hughes' life at the beginning of the book.

This poem is a prime example of the theme of death which is prevalent throughout many of Hughes' poems. This particular poem contrasts the fleetingness of life with the perpetuity of death. The speaker in this poem refers to life as being "the shivering of a great drum, beaten with swift sticks."
