PUTRIT - GROSS BRAY

Traces the rise of pictorial art in China and looks at the development of Chinese figure and landscape painting by viewing and describing the work of master painters from the era of the Six Dynasties through the Ch'ing or Manchu period

The term 'landscape architecture' dates from its use by Meason in this book, published in 1828

Excerpt from Sketches of Great Painters for Young People Pictures should play an important part in the education of young people. The study of the art treasures of the world, revealing, as they do, the thoughts and feelings of great men of all ages and climes, helps greatly in the development of mind and character. Such study not only is a source of pleasure, but leads to a deeper knowledge of nature and of life, for the artist stands as an interpreter between nature and man. The primary object of this book is to interest young people in the lives and the works of some of the masters of painting. A secondary object is to aid them in making collections of photographs. This work is of real value to them, and they should be encouraged in it, for it is through familiarity with pictures that one learns to understand and love them. At the end of the book is placed a list of pictures, photographs of which are recommended for mounting. In choosing photographs, care should be taken to select those which are reproductions from the original pictures, and not from engravings or copies. The photographs recommended for mounting and many others mentioned in the volume may be obtained of Messrs. C. H. Dunton Co., Boston, Mass, to whom thanks are due for their courtesy in supplying many of the photographs used in illustrating this book. Lucas Cranach (1472-1553) was one of the greatest artists of the Renaissance, as shown by the diversity of his artistic interests as well as his awareness of the social and political events of this time. He developed a number of painting techniques which were afterwards used by several generations of artists. His somewhat mannered style and spending palette are easily recognized in numerous portraits of monarchs, cardinals, courtiers and their ladies, religious reformers, humanists and philosophers. A part of the Great Painters Collection, translated from the Russian by Paul Williams. 109 full color plates and numerous black and white and two-color illustrations interspersed by text. Includes a chronological table of the work of Cranach and his notable contemporaries.

This practical guide to the techniques of 50 of the world's greatest painters concentrates on one work by each artist. The book shows the development of technique from the frescoes of Giotto to the acrylic paintings of David Hockney, revealing the extent to which changes of technique and the evolution of artist's materials went hand in hand. Actual size details of the works are provided to give a clear indication of the scale of the work. Over 300 explanatory color diagrams illustrate the stages of the painting process. Concise textual introductions provide outlines of the career and general technique of each artist. Each painting is produced together with a series of details, each of which is captioned and provided with a key to show exactly which area of the painting is being illustrated.

Isaac Levitan was one of the greatest landscape painters of the nineteenth century not only in Russian, but in European art as well. He created works of undying artistic merit. His art is for all time and for all people because it absorbed into itself the woes, the joys and the social realities of its age, because it converted that which men lived by into sublime works of art and translated the author's emotions into lyrical images of his native land. At the end of the nineteenth century the landscape was one of the foremost genres in Russian painting. It was this influence that shaped Levitan's art, an art fully and by right symbolic of the finest achievements of Russian landscape painting.

Like having 100 of the world's greatest painters at your side, giving you their own personal tips and advice - Painting Masterclass examines 100 paintings from art history: the way they were made, what they do well, and how and what we can learn from them. Throughout the history of painting, one of the best ways in which many great painters have developed their own personal approaches has been by copying other artists' work. Learning from great artists helps to encourage a discerning eye, as well as an understanding of colour, materials and perspective, and can inspire further innovation. With the detailed analyses and instructive creative tips sections in this book, you can learn how to convey movement like Degas, apply acrylic like Twombly, and command colour like Matisse. With paintings comprising a broad variety of styles, approaches and materials, the book studies the techniques of many of the greatest painters who have worked across the globe from the 15th to the 21st centuries, using watercolour, gouache, tempera, fresco, oils, encaustic and mixed media, including: Titian, Francisco Goya, Gustave Courbet, Georges Seurat, Edvard Munch, Paul Gauguin, Gustav Klimt, Amedeo Modigliani, Jenny Saville, Caravaggio, Egon Schiele, Michelangelo Buonarroti, Paul Klee, Claude Monet, Edward Hopper, Georgia O'Keeffe, Leonardo da Vinci, Marlene Dumas, Mary Cassatt, Frida Kahlo, Marc Chagall, Sandro Botticelli and Jackson Pollock. Perfect for students as well as professional painters, and with a broad historical and global reach, this book is an indispensable introduction to the rich history and practice of painting. Organized by genre: nudes, figures, landscapes, still lifes, heads, fantasy, and abstraction. Includes practical tips and advice, allowing you to weave some of the great artists' magic into your own work. Selected masterpieces serve as perfect examples of a particular quality in painting: light and shade, rhythm, form, space, contour, and composition are all covered in detail. Explores each artist's creative vision, describing how they made the artwork. Use it as a guide, a confidence-booster, a workbook, a companion - or simply admire the paintings!

Secret Lives of Great Artists recounts the seamy, steamy, and gritty history behind the great masters of international art. You'll learn that Michelangelo's body odor was so bad, his assistants couldn't stand working for him; that Vincent van Gogh sometimes ate paint directly from the tube; and Georgia O'Keeffe loved to paint in the nude. This is one art history lesson you'll never forget!

Crossroads: A Glimpse into the Life of Alice Pasquini is the artist's first anthology, one of the top female international street artists. In over 300 pages, 200 images and a number of original extracts from her sketchbook, Crossroads tells the story and showcases the artwork of Alice Pasquini. Alice is a prolific illustrator, creative designer and painter who has been gifting cities with her artwork for over a decade: through her work, women and children become an integral feature of any urban surrounding. From large artwork - like the wall of the Italian Museum in Melbourne - to small cameos in London or Marseille, Alice's creativity shines through in every city thanks to her unique style. The images in Crossroads have been taken from photographers the likes of Martha Cooper and Ian Cox. The book is brought together by a foreword from the editor Paulo von Vacano, texts by Jessica Stewart and journalists Nicolas Ballario (Rolling Stones) and Stephen Heyman (New York Times), as well as article extracts by Steven P. Harrington and Jaime Rojo - Co-founders of Brooklyn Street Art [BSA], Serena Dandini, DJ Gruff and Chef Rubio.
