ZFD4AR - GUERRA DAPHNE

Jeremiah, Hebrew prophet, reformer, and author of a biblical book that bears his name. He was closely involved in the political and religious events of a crucial era in the history of the ancient Near East; his spiritual leadership helped his fellow countrymen survive multiple disasters.

Jeremiah was a prophet endowed with monumental faith. Despite opposition from all camps he was convinced that he was right and that only he spoke God's truth. He argued with God because of his suffering and he did not want to take on the mission. But he never disputed God about the need for the mission.

This sketch of Jeremiah's life portrays him as a courageous and persistent prophet who often had to endure physical suffering for his fidelity to the prophetic call. He also suffered inner doubts and conflicts, as his own words reveal, especially those passages that are usually called his ...

Jeremiah The Suffering Prophet And

Jeremiah's suffering is laid out in detail. And he doesn't exactly suffer quietly—he cries out to God, lamenting his pain, and also cursing ever having been born. He's the "weeping prophet," a man whose message makes him hurt about as badly as his persecutors do.

Many prophets suffered greatly. Moses suffered many times as he led the Israelites to the border of the Promised Land. Jeremiah was warned by God that the kings, princes, priests, and people of Judah would fight against him (Jeremiah 1:17-19). Jeremiah was threatened and greatly afflicted in many ways because his message was unpopular.

Jeremiah is the prophet who was rejected. He was arrested and charged with blasphemy as well as treason. He is often referred to as "Jeremiah, the suffering prophet."
