Man Walks into a Room Quotes by Nicole Krauss

Award-winning American novelist Nicole Krauss first captivated readers with her groundbreaking debut novel Man Walks into a Room, a novel in which Krauss explores what it is to lose one's identity and what it is to discover what makes us human. Samson Greene has been missing for eight days when he is discovered wandering through the Nevada desert, 'ragged as a crow' and with no idea who he is.

Her first novel, Man Walks Into a Room, was a finalist for the It won the William Saroyan International Prize for Writing, France's Prix du Meilleur Livre Étranger, was named #1 book of the year by Amazon.com, and was short-listed for the Orange, Médicis, and Femina prizes.

Man Walks Into a Room is a quick read. The characters don't develop in a way that makes you feel attached to them or expect things from them. The epilogue left me unsettled, I'm not sure if it made the book worse or not, but it certainly didn't help it...

In "Man Walks Into A Room", a man loses all memory of his life between age 14 and when he is found wandering. At first he has no emotional connection to his current life, including to his wife with whom he had been in a loving marriage. As the novel is narrated entirely from the man's point of view, it is difficult to connect at this ...
