Writing a synthesis essay outline is the first thing you should do before you get started. The process of creating an outline isn't a waste of time. Even if you don't need to show it to the teacher, you should do it in order to make sure you create a well-organized paper.

Synthesis essay format is not that different from an argumentative paper as both use multiple sources to support one position. However, synthetic writing focuses more on the relationships between the references than on making a point. In this aspect, it is closer to a compare and contrast paper.

Create an outline appropriate for a background or review synthesis essay. While most synthesis essays are entirely focused on stating and supporting a thesis, background and review essays explore the ideas found in the sources rather than focusing on the author's point of view. There are two basic ways to structure these sort of synthesis essays:
