The cat from Hue : a Vietnam war story. After years of reckoning with his memories, the author has made sense of them in this memoir by weaving them into a compelling story. It is laced with humor, anger, love, and the unforgettable tale of a very idiosyncratic cat who was determined to play his part in the Vietnam revolution.

The Cat From Hue. by John Laurence. Winner of the Overseas Press Club Cornelius Ryan Award John Laurence covered the Vietnam war for CBS News from its early days, through the bloody battle of Hue in 1968, to the Cambodian invasion. He was judged by his colleagues to be the best television reporter of the war, however, the traumatic stories Laurence covered became a personal burden that he carried long after the war was over. In this evocative, unflinching memoir, laced with humor, anger, love ...

In this evocative, unflinching memoir, laced with humor, anger, love, and the unforgettable story of MÃ© a cat rescued from the battle of Hue, Laurence recalls coming of age during the war years as a journalist and as a man. Along the way, he clarifies the murky history of the war and the role that journalists played in altering its course.

The Cat From Hue: A Vietnam War Story By John Laurence Laurence was as good a television journalist as any who covered the Vietnam War, going out in the field over and over from 1965 to 1970 and creating a renowned documentary, "The World of Charlie Company."

I found The Cat from Hue by John Laurence to be one of the best historical accounts of the Vietnam War that I have read. I missed reading the Cat from Hue when it came out in 2002. By that time America had gone through Desert Storm, 9/11, fighting in Afghanistan, and was about to invade Iraq. Vietnam was far in the rear view mirror.

In this superb book, The Cat from Hue, he returns to that time, drawing on long-buried memories to capture the confusion, deceit, and terror of the era. In 1968, John Laurence unhappily found himself dodging bullets and poking among ruins of the ancient Vietnamese city of Hue, eventually wandering square into the sights of a gun held by a North Vietnamese soldier, who could easily have shot him dead but did not.
