The real measure of a man is the man in his life who loves him best—he will function as his measure both in the sense that the younger man will strive to be like him, and yet, he also shows him how to be a measured man who, upon hearing what he believes is the church's disdain for him, simply doesn't care. To a man, the man who credibly loves him is his measure, for good or ill.

The Measure of a Man – Theopolis Institute

A common measure of a man among those who believe in God, is his sacrifices and works for God. Most of the religions in the world judge a man by the festivals or rituals he keeps. The one who is most faithful in his acts is considered to be the closest to God and greater than those who do not believe or are less faithful.
